Services

Coaching & Mentoring

I'm happy to provide 1:1 coaching in any aspect of making and releasing music. Sessions are flexible and are available from either a single 60 minute session to block bookings or more regular scheduled meet-ups with assignments and challenges to keep you moving forward and accountable. From beginners to super-experienced, I'll assess your strengths and weaknesses and help you build from there:

- Songwriting
- Production
- Music Business
- Releasing Music
- Branding & Marketing
- Synchronisation

Please ask if you have something else in mind.

Collaboration

I love to co-write with my clients and frequently help move existing songs forward and upward, as well as collaborating from a blank sheet of paper together! At the end of the co-write clients may have either a simple work-tape or opt for full production (below).

Production

Many clients come back time and again for my production service, which involves a complete build of the track from the ground up:

- Full professional programming, production, and vocal production, mixed and professionally mastered ready for release, including:
  - Record production
  - Piano/keys
  - Sound design
  - Guitars
  - Bass playing/programming
  - Drum programming
  - Vocal production, comping, tuning and treatment
  - Additional programmed instruments e.g. strings
  - Mixing
  - Mastering
- I will provide masters of:
  - MAIN MIX
  - INSTRUMENTAL
  - TV TRACK (Instrumental Backing Track with background vocals)

Ultimate 1:1 Residential Experience

To really immerse yourself in making professional music, enjoy a 5 day in-person songwriting and recording experience live in my studio following a song from creation through production to final mix and mastering.

Testimonials

Meeting Martin turned out to be a musical milestone for me. I was ready to give up. When Martin first listened to my work, he smiled and said, "This is beautiful and beautifully produced." I was thrilled to hear such feedback from a music veteran who has worked with so many famous people. Martin then produced one of my songs. We worked together on Zoom in my local studio across the pond to do the vocals. Under Martin's guidance, I hit notes I didn't know I had! His production brought out the essence of my song beyond what I could imagine and gave me new dimension as an artist and songwriter. I have since referred a few of my friends to Martin, and they are all working with him now as well. I am so grateful that I found Martin Sutton!

Marla

I've worked on several projects with Martin so far and have nothing but praise for him. Working with Martin I got more than a skilful and experienced producer transforming my songs into exciting, radio-ready releases. He patiently worked with me to bring out the best in my writing, and ultimately the best in me. I feel I have broken through long-held misconceptions about who I can be, and what I can achieve, as a songwriter, producer and artist. He's also a genuinely nice chap and a pleasure to work with. I cannot recommend him highly enough.

Ian

Working with Martin Sutton has been such an incredible and inspiring experience for me. His creativity, talent, and professionalism really stand out in every session, and he makes the whole process both productive and genuinely enjoyable. I've always felt safe to share any idea with him—he creates this open, judgment-free space where everything is welcome and explored with curiosity. He has such a natural way of mentoring, always guiding with intention and care. His dedication to excellence really motivates me to bring my best, and seeing how proud he is of the final result makes me feel just as proud of what we've created together.

Angela

Working with Martin has been nothing short of transformative. His gift as a producer and co-writer is undeniable, but it's his warmth, wisdom, and unwavering belief in me that have made the greatest impact. At a time when I had nearly walked away from music, he helped me rediscover my love for singing and songwriting. With patience and heart, he encouraged me to step outside my comfort zone and in doing so, I found my voice again... stronger, more confident, and deeply inspired.

Alana

Martins' ability to make music masterpieces is very real. The moment you step into his studio the magic begins his commitment is palpable. It is simply magnificent his ability to understand where a song needs to go. His expertise and experience both in song writing and record production is totally outstanding. Every time I work with Martin, I know our songs are in the safest and most brilliant of hands. Thank you, Martin I am honoured, and privileged to have you work on the songs we have created together.

Gina

Martin took my vision for our song and ran with it. With only a few words and little description, he aligned with it immediately and perfectly and produced a stellar record tailored to the brief, with added extra sparkle. Absolutely nailed it. Can't thank him enough. I would highly recommend Martin and would love to work with him as a producer again."

Chloe

Martin's songwriting and production ability is fantastic really helped bring my vision to life and he is an absolute pleasure to work with.

Jamie

Having taken other academic courses in songwriting, I really love and value your particular approach, mindset and the content of your teaching from your professional experience, it really is compressing "decades into days" and I feel grateful and inspired to be able to learn such valuable knowledge from someone who has achieved success in the career path that I am passionately pursuing.

Jasmina

Thank you for sharing your insights and revelations! It's truly a beautiful gift to have people willing to share what they have learned.

Meredith

Working with Martin on my song is an incredible experience. He is respectful and such a master at bringing my vision to life. An ultimate, thrilling ride.
